Become a VITA Volunteer!

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) is a national IRS sponsored program that provides free tax preparation of federal and state tax returns for low-income households. On average, it costs a taxpayer nearly $300 to have their return prepared and filed by a tax firm-- money that could be spent to support basic needs like food or rent.

Volunteers are critical to the success of the VITA program. There are two ways to get involved: being a greeter or being a tax preparer. No prior tax experience is needed for either role! Volunteers will complete IRS training to become certified tax preparers. Training for volunteers will take place in December and tax clinics will start in late January through April. Thank you for considering helping out with this important program!

Click here for more information or to sign up to volunteer!

Winter Weather Warriors (South District and Longfellow Neighborhoods)

Winter Weather Warriors is a volunteer-led snow removal program designed to support neighbors who may struggle to clear sidewalks and driveways during the winter months. Whether due to age, disability, illness, limited mobility, or other challenges, some residents face barriers to staying safe during snowy weather. How the program works:

- Volunteers “adopt” one or more nearby addresses and shovel after snowfalls of 1 inch or more.
- Neighbors who need help can sign up to be matched with someone nearby.
- Residents can also nominate a neighbor who may need support but isn’t likely to fill out the form themselves.

If you’re interested in signing up to receive help or to be a volunteer, visit the Winter Weather Warriors website or use the intake form for your neighborhood:

Sunday, Jan. 11, 2026. Bur Oak Land Trust: Strategies in Environmental Conservation. Jason Taylor, Executive Director, has been instrumental in promoting land conservation efforts in the region, ensuring that natural habitats are preserved for future generations. His leadership at Bur Oak illustrates his commitment to environmental stewardship and community engagement. Jason previously worked at VentureLab.org and Project Lead The Way, providing innovative curriculum strategies for transformative learning experiences in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) education, and was a key driver for innovative curriculum strategies and program development. He previously served in the United States Marine Corps and earned a B.S. in Environmental Science and an M.A. in Educational Measurement and Statistics from the University of Iowa.

Sunday, Feb. 8, 2026. Creating a Pocket Prairie in Your Landscape. Kasey Hutchinson, Johnson County Planning, Development and Sustainability. Since 2018, Kasey Hutchinson has served as Johnson County's Environmental Regulations Coordinator, ensuring that developments in unincorporated areas meet the county's environmental standards. She also manages the county's Soil Health Program and represents Johnson County on the Middle Iowa Watershed Management Authorities (MIWMAI), advancing regional efforts to protect and restore water resources. Kasey brings broad experience in water resource management, having worked across all levels of government, as well as in the private sector. She holds a B.S. in Environmental Science and an M.S. in Environmental Engineering from the University of Iowa.

Sunday, March 8, 2026. Monitoring Kent Park Bluebirds —

Learning the Hard Way. Ben Rowold is a dedicated volunteer with the Johnson County Conservation Board. For more than a decade, he has combined his lifelong interest in nature with hands-on stewardship to monitor the bluebird nest box trail at F.W. Kent Park. He is now entering his 11th season of supporting this vital conservation effort. Although his professional career was with a government contractor before retiring in 2023, Ben has long valued opportunities to connect with the natural world. He also serves on the board of Iowa Master Naturalists, where he enjoys learning, sharing, and building connections with others who care deeply about conservation.
