

Johnson County Conservation VOLUNTEER NEWSLETTER

March 2026

We need your help for the following volunteer positions and events!

Avian Adventure Trivia Night Helpers

Tuesday, March 24, 5:30-8:00 p.m.
Big Grove in Iowa City

We are seeking volunteer scorekeepers and greeters for the Avian Adventure Trivia Night. This event is open to anyone but is geared toward folks who participated in the Avian Adventure program throughout February and March. We had over 100 attendees at this event previously. The night gets busy but is super fun. Scorekeeping help is greatly needed and appreciated! We could also use help with welcoming folks as they arrive.

Tree Display Creatives

Times TBD
Interested folks can sign up for list with work session updates

We've been busy building a cool new oak tree display for inside of the CEC! This tree is a giant hollow tree that kids can climb into, host puppet shows from, play with an interactive mural built into it, and more. The tree will be outfitted with bark made from a heavy-duty cardboard/concrete goop. We're looking for volunteers interested in helping us shlop that into place and press it with bark patterning. Later, we'll have volunteers help with priming and painting the bark. Finally, we'd love help constructing bur oak leaves out of crepe paper.

Work sessions will be scheduled as our progress allows and as our field trip schedules allow. People on the interest list will be notified when we post new work dates.
